Flying Fortresses Batter Burning Ruins of Hamburg

Americans and RAF Also Bomb Low Countries in One of Greatest Raids

Eleven Fortresses Lost against 61 German Planes Shot Down in Furious Air Battles

LONDON, July 30 (AP)—Flying Fortresses in strong force battered a German plane factory at Kassel today while lesser American and Allied planes swept Northern France and the Low Countries in force in an explosive epilogue to a 2,300-ton bombing of burning Hamburg in its seventh attack in a week.

The Fortresses shot down twenty-seven of the fifty-two or more German fighters destroyed in the daylight sweeps, among the heaviest of the Allied aerial offensive. Eleven Fortresses, one medium bomber, three light bombers and seven fighters were lost in a 61-22 victory score.

Massive formations of Allied bombers headed for the continent again late tonight, after the day-raiding Americans returned, in this unprecedented hammering of Germany.

The Hamburg raid was "in very great strength" and was part of a sustained Allied effort to blot Germany's second city off the map with its great submarine works and other war plants. It was the third raid in the series of seven in which 2,300 long tons of explosives had plummeted on the city of 1,600,000 and the blockbusters were showering down at the rate of fifty tons a minute for three quarters of an hour.

Greatest Raid in History
"Never before in the history of warfare has an attack of such weight and persistence been made against a single industrial target," the Air Ministry News Service said.

Fires have been licking at Hamburg's widening wounds without halt for six days and nights.

The Americans attacked Kassel in clear weather and "crews reported good bombing results," the communiqué said. Strong fighter opposition was encountered.

United States medium bombers raided enemy airfields at Woensdrecht in Holland, destroying six enemy planes. They were covered by British and Dominion Spitfires.

RAF Boston bombers, escorted by Spitfires and Typhoons, attacked the Schiphol airfield at Amsterdam, destroying three Nazi craft. The British also pounded the Courtrai and Oxyde fields in Belgium.

500 RAF Fighters Used
An idea of the scale of the daylight raid was suggested in an air ministry statement that 500 British fighters alone participated.

Other squadrons went out on rescue missions, picking up six American airmen from the sea. In the afternoon Typhoon bombers successfully bombed the airfield at Poix, and a Ventura squadron scored direct hits on the Yainville power station.

The United States raid on Kassel was the sixth American assault on Germany in seven days and brought (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Hitler Sends Birthday Present to Mussolini

LONDON, July 30 (AP)—The Berlin radio announced today that Adolf Hitler had sent Benito Mussolini the complete works of Nietzsche, specially printed and with a "cordial dedication by Hitler" as a sixtieth birthday present.

The broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, said the books were delivered by Nazi Field Marshal Albert Kesselring. Presumably Mussolini was in custody when the present was delivered.

Two things are needed when a victorious army enters a country, he said. First, an end of armed opposition, and second, an avoidance of (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—A variety of government reports combined today to spell trouble for alcoholic thirsts and appetites for some foods.

LAUNCHES WAR FUND

DAUGHTER of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., Mrs. John K. Waters christens the National War Fund (ship model) in New York. It marked the opening of the $125,000,000 drive for war relief agencies. Mrs. Waters's husband is a war prisoner.

Roosevelt Asks Neutral Nations To Bar Enemies Opposes Giving Asylum To Axis Leaders or "Other Criminals"

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK
WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—President Roosevelt, with the backing of Britain and Russia, today called on the neutral nations of the world to grant no asylum to Hitler, Mussolini, Tojo or any other "war criminals" who may seek "to escape their just deserts."

The president's request was made in the form of a statement issued at a news conference. In London, the British government promptly associated itself with the president's views, and it was stated officially in that capital that Soviet Russia also approved.

Mr. Roosevelt served notice on the neutrals that granting refuge to "Axis leaders or their tools" would be considered "inconsistent with the principles for which the United Nations are fighting." Thus he reaffirmed Allied intentions to bring the "war criminals" to trial.

Roosevelt's Views
Discussing the Italian situation, Mr. Roosevelt said he does not care with whom the government deals in that country as long as it is not a definite member of the Fascist party. When the time arrives, he made plain, the government is willing to treat with a king, prime minister or even a mayor.

Asked whether Marshal Badoglio could be considered a Fascist, the president said he was not dealing with personalities.

Two things are needed when a victorious army enters a country, he said. First, an end of armed opposition, and second, an avoidance of (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Portal-to-Portal Pay for Miners Taken to Court

Jewel Ridge Corporation Files Petition at Roanoke, Va.

Names United Mine Workers and John L. Lewis as Defendants

ROANOKE, Va., July 30 (AP)—The Jewel Ridge Coal Corporation filed in United States district court today a petition for a declaratory judgment to settle the question of whether portal-to-portal travel time by coal miners is work time.

Named as defendants in the action—a test case supported by the Southern Coal Producers Association—are the United Mine Workers of America; John L. Lewis, its president; District No. 28, UMW, and locals Nos. 6167 and 7337.

Edward Burke, president and general counsel of the Southern Association, said the court was being asked whether portal-to-portal pay should be given miners under the Wages and Hours act and under contracts between miners and operators. The question of whether miners should be paid for the time spent traveling from the mouth of mines to working places was a major reason why negotiations between the UMW and Southern producers failed and led to government operation of the mines.

Seek Injunction
The action was brought under the Fair Labor Standards act of 1938 and the plaintiff seeks not only a judgment declaring the rights and legal relations of the parties, but such injunctive relief as may be proper under the provisions of the federal declaratory judgment act.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the plaintiff said it is the desire of the corporation to effect an agreement with the union even before the court determination, and subject to the decision of the court, so that the mines can be returned by the government to the owners for operation. The Jewel Ridge mines are located in Southwest Virginia.

Refers to Inquiry
The petition referred to an extended investigation into the wage and hour practices of certain coal mining companies in Pennsylvania and out of which was raised the question of whether, under the provisions of section seven of the Fair Labor Standards act, the travel time consumed by employees in going to and from their usual working (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Operators Ask Ickes To Give Back the Mines

Declare It Is His Duty To Restore Private Ownership

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—The Appalachian Mine Operators' Negotiating committee contended today it is Secretary Ickes' "duty" to return immediately to private ownership the mines taken away by the federal government May 1.

In a telegram to Ickes as coal administrator, R. L. Ireland, Jr., of the Appalachian Joint Conference and Edward R. Burke, of the Southern Appalachian Joint Wage Conference, declared:

"We consider it your duty under the War Labor Disputes act and the compliance order of the National War Labor Board in connection with its directive of June 18 to return our mines and other assets to private ownership and urgently request that you take immediate steps to do so."

Ireland and Burke said they had noted that Ickes told a press conference yesterday he had obtained an opinion from his legal department on the question of returning the mines to private control.

"The mines in the Appalachian area for which we speak" they said, "have already in the words of the War Labor Disputes act substantially achieved the 'restoration' of the productive efficiency thereof prevailing prior to the taking of possession thereof."

VIOLENCE RIPS BESIEGED ITALY

INTERNAL CLASHES continue to rock Italy since the ouster of Mussolini. A high Nazi official has been reported assassinated at Turin (1), where Italian troops also are said to be blocking German forces coming from the north. Other Germans are reported being fought by Italians at Milan (2) as they try to reach a River Po defense line (3) through Brenner Pass (4). Crowds rioted in Milan, demanding peace. Armistice talks were rumored in Vatican City at Rome (5). The Axis held in Sicily (white territory) with reinforcements.

RUSSIANS GAIN SIX MILES IN DRIVE TO ENCIRCLE OREL

By LYNN HEINZLINGER
LONDON, Saturday, July 31 (AP)—The Red army, plunging through muddy fields and forests, gained six miles yesterday and captured twenty villages rimming the Orel death trap where savagely resisting German forces have been bolstered by fresh troops just ferried in by air transport from Germany, it was announced early today in Moscow.

Captured German prisoners said they had flown from Stettin, Germany only twenty-four hours before they were engulfed by the onrushing Soviet armies which killed at least 4,000 Axis troops near the key German base yesterday, said a mid-night Moscow bulletin recorded by the Soviet Monitor. A communiqué yesterday said the Germans were rushing troops from France and Germany to try to halt the disaster at Orel.

Report Violent Battles
In violent battles punctuated by attacks and counterattacks by both sides, the Germans were reported fighting on urgent orders "to prevent the complete defeat of the German army."

A special communiqué issued last night said the Germans had lost twenty-one tanks and thirty-seven planes Thursday on all fronts. The later bulletin added that thirty-six tanks and twenty-one planes had been knocked out yesterday.

Most of the toll was taken around Orel where Soviet troops are within eight miles of the city, but scattered fighting raged from Leningrad in the north to the Donets basin in the south.

Three White Youths Confess They Murdered Negro in Detroit Riots

DETROIT, July 30 (AP)—Three white youths, two of them teen-aged, have confessed to participating in the slaying of a 33-year-old negro man during the Detroit race riots June 21. Prosecutor William E. Dowling announced today.

Dowling said that the youths told him a "story of cold-blooded murder" in recounting how the negro, Moses Kiska, was shot down as he waited for a street car at Mack avenue and Chene street. Kiska's death was one of thirty-four police attributed to the rioting and one of thirteen which had been listed as unsolved.

Confessions of Aldo Trani, 16, Armando Mastantuono, 20, and Anthony Saraceno, 18, solved the slaying of Kiska, Dowling declared.

Formal charges were withheld, he said, until questioning of a fourth youth, also held, is completed.

Lieut. Charles Muckholdt of the police homicide squad described the four youths as "typical of young hoodlum gangs," and said he had never heard of "a homicide so utterly vicious and without provocation."

According to the boys' story, Dowling said, the youths decided to "go and get some niggers."

Mastantuono had a rifle and as they drove along in a car they saw Kiska waiting in a street car zone.

Trani said, "Give me the gun."

Dowling related, and then he leapt into the car and then he leapt (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Patton's Troops Continue Drive Toward Messina

Batter Weakening German Front in Northern Sicily Area

Also Attack Italian Ports on Mainland in Vicinity of Naples

By DANIEL DE LUCE
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, July 30 (AP)—A mighty American offensive against weakening northern sections of the German front slammed forward today over the rugged highlands of Sicily toward the Messina strait.

Spurred by "keep striking" orders of Lieut. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., the doughboys knifed into Axis positions and threatened to beat in the doors of Axis defenses hinged on San Stefano on the North coast and Catania on the East.

The Americans advanced in "several places" yesterday, a terse communiqué declared, while Canadians in the very center drove small engagements below Catania.

Blast Italian Ports
Aloft, Allied air power struck against ports and roads in Sicily, shipping in the Tyrrhenian sea, and at airdromes in Italy near Naples and Rome.

British cruisers and destroyers shelled the Italian mainland Thursday without opposition, hitting at railway lines and bridges on the shore south of Crotone, said a BBC broadcast recorded by United States government monitors.

San Stefano, already strategically outflanked by American capture of Nicosia, nineteen miles inland, still was officially in Nazi hands, but United States troops were near its gates.

Problem for Germans
If the Germans can hold San Stefano temporarily their hastily revamped Mt. Etna line is expected to run from there to Troina, eleven miles east of Nicosia, then south to Regalbuto, thence eastward along the north bank of the Dittaino river to the Catania plain.

Dazzling strategic possibilities are opening up ahead of the Americans if they can sustain the burning pace that swept all Western Sicily clean of Axis resistance and then rolled back the German right flank in the east.

With the British hotly engaging the largest portion of the German army on Catania plain and the Canadians crashing through a series of (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

No Immediate Boost in Gas Officials Say

No Change in Rations Expected for at Least a Week

WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—Motorists can expect no change in current gasoline rations for at least a week or two, officials stated today.

At Office of Price Administration officials said they were waiting for a policy report to be made by James F. Byrnes, director of war mobilization.

Ten days ago that he might have the report ready in ten days, a spokesman reported that the document could not possibly be ready for at least a week.

The general nature of the contemplated gasoline rationing changes has been indicated in several recent statements by Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes and OPA Administrator Prentiss M. Brown. Brown said he hoped to lift the pleasure driving ban in the East and Ickes said that more gasoline would be made available to the East but less to the region between the Eastern shore area and the Rocky mountains.

Some modification of the "A" gasoline book also has been reported unofficially. Under this plan, "A" books, regardless of their value, would be designed for pleasure or business use, with no question asked, while "B" and "C" books would continue to represent supplemental rations for occupational or professional driving.

British Cabinet Told To Stand By for News Of Major Importance

JAILED FASCIST

ACCORDING to a B.B.C. report, Roberto Farinacci, former secretary-general of the Fascist party, has been jailed. The arrest saved him from a mob that stormed his hotel in Rome. He slipped out a back door and was picked up by the authorities.

Jobs For Vets Planned by New U. S. Committee

Government Group Hopes To Care for All; Opposes Bonus

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—Government sponsorship of a "dynamic" expansionary economy to provide full employment when peace comes, coupled with plans for "orderly" demobilization of the armed forces and war industry workers—but no lump sum bonus—was urged in a report today by a twelve-member presidential committee.

President Roosevelt, who created the committee a year ago to draw plans on "postwar readjustment of civilian and military personnel," made public the 106-page report with the informal comment that it was perfectly excellent, that he approved of its general objectives, but that Congress would have to work out the details.

Follows Own Program
He told his press-radio conference that the recommendations followed in general his own six-point program for war veterans contained in his Wednesday night radio address.

The committee foresaw a possible temporary unemployment of eight or nine million persons after demobilization, but said this should not be accepted as an argument "against the possibility of attaining a high level of employment under long-term stabilization plans."

Briefly, it recommended for members of the armed services three months furlough or mustering-out pay of not more than $100 a month, unemployment insurance benefits for 26 weeks for those not working (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Nazi Submarine Brings Down Blimp In Battle Somewhere in the Atlantic

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON, July 30 (AP)—An enemy submarine employing the latest Nazi defense tactics against America's aerial U-boat hunters recently counterattacked and shot down patrol blimp K-74 somewhere in the Atlantic. It was disclosed today.

The battle was the first ever reported between a gas bag and a diving boat in which the aerial craft came off second best. There have been several unofficial reports of effective assaults on submarines by (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Grave Developments Predicted in Neutral Dispatches as Unrest in Italian Cities Spreads

LONDON, Saturday, July 31 (AP)—British cabinet members and heads of the fighting services have been ordered to stand by over the week-end for war developments apparently in connection with riot-torn Italy, it was learned early today.

One London newspaper, the Daily Mirror, carried a banner headline saying "Italy may be out of the war tomorrow."

Prime Minister Churchill's official family was called into a hurried consultation just after midnight yesterday, generating conjecture that Italy had approached the Allies with a white flag.

However, it was understood late last night that nothing was known in the capital of any Italian approach for an armistice.

No. 10 Downing street kept silent as usual, except for the bare disclosure that Churchill summoned the war cabinet members from sleep in the middle of the night for one meeting and then conducted a second session by daylight.

Grave Developments Loom
But from neutral listening posts and Axis radios streamed news and propaganda of grave developments in Italy as Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio struggled to maintain cohesion of his people and his army.

Badoglio's troops were again reported in a Madrid dispatch to have clashed in Northern Italy with reinforced German divisions—which Axis broadcasts said were maneuvering simply as allies of the Italians.

Madrid advices said the Germans had established a guard over five Italian submarines which they found berthed at Fiume yesterday and were assigning Nazi crews to man them for use in the Adriatic against any Allied attempt to flank the Balkans through Dalmatia.

Italian troops at Milan were declared in a dispatch from the Swiss frontier town of Chiasso to have been placed under a new commander, Gen. Vittorio Ruggiero, after refusing to fire upon citizens who swept the streets by the thousands shouting for peace. DNB had told earlier of an "extremely difficult" situation at Milan, saying rioters shot at everything in uniform, German or Italian.

Conflicting Reports
The majority of the Italian people "ardently desire rebirth of the country on a democratic basis," the Swiss telegraphic agency said. The controlled Italian press termed demonstrators "extremists and communists." The Berlin radio insisted that Italy was returning to normal, that calm prevailed in every province.

Transoceanic said all members of the outlawed Italian Fascist Grand Council except one, "particularly radical," had been arrested. The German propaganda agency did not (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Heavy Work Now, Nazi Radio Says

LONDON, July 30 (AP)—The German radio, in a report on fighting on the Russian front, told its listeners at home tonight that the war "has turned into heavy work" and that no more special communiques could be expected.

Special communiques were a feature of the German High Command during the period of lightning war, blimps, which are armed with machine guns and depth charges.

A terse navy communiqué said, "The K-74 was fired upon while attacking the submarine, and as the result of a hit, was forced to make a landing on the sea."

The air ship, the war bulletin said, was lost, but all of its crew members were rescued except an aviation mechanic's mate, Samuel Steved of Brooklyn, N. Y. Normally there are eleven aboard.

Surprise British Cabinet Meetings Cause Excitement

Seem To Indicate Italy Is Soon To Get out of the War

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

An abnormal and significant degree of official reticence still covered last night the purpose of two surprise British war cabinet huddles in London during the day, but other circumstances left small doubt that the break which could take Italy out of the war was close at hand.

American and Canadian troops are storming the main central segment of the Axis defense line in Sicily. They are well beyond captured Nicosia and Agrig, almost within reach of a breakthrough that would crumple up the whole Etna position. Its collapse from Catania to the North coast is imminent as Allied bombers blaster key junctions like Cusano, Randazzo, Regalbuto and Adrano in perfect application of the Allied theory of the tactical function of aviation in support of advancing ground troops.

Bomb Italian "Boat"
Meanwhile, however, a more ominous threat of events to come on the Italian mainland itself was being registered. Long range bombers from Sicily or even from across the Mediterranean were concentrating on Axis air installations across the whole Italian boot south of Naples. They met virtually no air opposition and only sporadic anti-aircraft fire as they blasted or burned out field after field. Grounded enemy planes were frequent targets.

This lack of vigorous organized resistance in highly significant. It implies that Nazi air power already has been largely pulled out of Southern Italy and that Italian pilots and ground gun crews have little stomach to keep up the fight, whatever the orders from Rome. The apparent stepping-up of the Allied attack on the mainland must be more than an effort to halt reinforcement of the doomed Axis garrison in Sicily. It is a sure prelude to Anglo-American invasion of the Italian mainland itself if Rome fails to heed the surrender ultimatum.

Italians Quit Cold
Some elements of the Italian mainland army have already quit cold as did much of the Italian garrison of Sicily. Other parts of it are reported in armed conflict with Nazi forces above or on the Po river line far to the north where Hitler is hastily setting up an expeditionary inner wall for his Continental fortress.

Still another segment in Milan is said to have revolted against demands to fire on civilian peace demonstrators and joined in the demand for acceptance of Allied capitulation terms.

Even if these symptoms of immediate Italian collapse are premature, they strongly sustain the view in even pro-Axis capitals of Europe like Madrid that the end for Italy is in sight, a matter of hours or days at most.

President Roosevelt made it known during the day that he does not care who makes the surrender so long as it is not a Fascist official.

Mr. Roosevelt also warned all European neutrals with prompt backing from London, that the Allies would frown on any granting of refuge within their territory to Mussolini or any other Fascist "criminal" seeking to escape his "just deserts."

Beer and Liquor

Withdrawals from reserves—the tax-paid withdrawals of whiskey, rum, gin and brandy were 96,532, 128 gallons, or 3,380,512 more than in the previous year.

On the beer front the Office of War Information (OWI) declared that local shortages are not due to production, the highest in history, but to record thievery. It cited that the output of 67,701,035 barrels last year set a record and this rate was topped in the first half of 1943 with 34,740,618 barrels.

The OWI said minor factors contributing to shortages are restrictions on use of trucks and the quarterly quota systems used by many breweries on distribution.

The agency said expansion can't be had because of limited capacity to make malt. It held out some prospects of easier supplies with cold weather and diminishing thirst, and remarked that one way brewers might make malt supplies stretch, thus increasing volume of beer, would be to cut alcoholic content.

places was to be included in the work week and paid for notwithstanding the long established practice to the contrary universally followed in the industry. These questions were discussed by officials of operating companies, unions and the wage and hour division of the Labor department, and a letter was drawn and sent to Col. Philip D. Fleming, then wage and hour administrator, showing in detail the practices followed in the bituminous coal mining industry in computing and paying for working time underground, and the difficulties and inequalities that would result from a departure from these practices.

Government May Seize Cars from Many Motorists

Federal Requisitioning May Be Necessary, Official Declares

BALTIMORE, July 30. (AP)—Federal requisitioning of automobiles for essential transportation may result from motorists' careless use of cars, a spokesman for a Baltimore War Price and Rationing Board predicted today.

Automobiles are wearing out at the rate of several million a year, the spokesman said, and the nation's stockpile of new automobiles now number only 132,000.

"It is expected that no new cars will be manufactured during the war," he said, "and the nation must make a rapidly decreasing number of cars furnish eighty per cent of the war workers with essential transportation."

"The latest estimate sets the number of usable cars at the end of next year at about 23,000,000. This is only 3,000,000 more than are absolutely required for essential transportation."

"It should be obvious that the life of all automobiles must be conserved if some form of requisitioning is not to become necessary," the spokesman asserted.

supposed to do." And besides, he said, he wanted to see action.

Declaring the marines were even "tougher than legend makes them out to be" the 34-year old newspaper man believes the training of a marine is a "rugged" business.

During a hit-and-run long distance telephone interview, he described the corps as an "outfit which makes a young man out of you even though you're over 30 — old for the marines."

Hours are from 5 a. m. to 11 p. m., and if you can't take it you're out, Smith lost twelve pounds doing it.

Has "College" Education

Smith got "five years of college education" in wheat fields, lumber camps, coal mines, docks and ships. Then he sold bonds in San Francisco, went to New York in 1930 as resident manager for the Anglo-California Trust Company, and on to Europe in 1932 as a free-lance writer, landing in Berlin "with $18 and no future" just as the Nazis were coming into power.

In fifteen European countries he conceived his hate for the Japanese, Nazis and "all Fascists" breeds.

But back in San Francisco the next year as financial editor, he began a new career (he always wanted to be a newspaper man, he says) which took him to the editor's chair in 1936. Some 43,000 citizens petitioned him unsuccessfully to run for mayor. The day after Pearl Harbor, Smith was called from the naval reserve to active duty as lieutenant commander in charge of the navy's press relations, later was loaned to the OWI, and won the acclaim of the United States junior chamber of commerce last year as the outstanding young man of 1942.

reported in which the new German sub defense was so clearly illustrated. Authorities have been aware for some time that the Germans were trying out the only alternative they had to the unsuccessful crash-diving methods until recently employed in combatting anti-submarine defenses. The new method is simply to stay on the surface and fight it out with an attacking aircraft.

There have been many stories of the effectiveness of airplanes against submarines. Only about two weeks ago the navy related the exploits of planes from a small aircraft carrier which sank two submarines and probably sank eight others in attacks on eleven undersea craft in the North Atlantic.

The blimps have a top speed of about thirty-five miles per hour and a cruising speed of about forty miles. At the slower rate they can carry enough gas for a voyage of about 2,000 miles.

This ability to travel slowly over a submarine's real or suspected route of escape and to drop depth charges as necessary has made the blimp a valuable weapon. Naval aviation's boast is that no convoy protected by blimps has ever lost a ship.

Jap Attack Fails To Halt American Forces at Munda

Soldiers and Marines Make Fresh Gains on Important Base

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Saturday, July 31. (AP)—A Japanese counterattack at Munda, New Georgia, where American forces are besieging a vital enemy airbase, has been repulsed, the Allied high command said today.

American soldiers and marines made further advances on the airbase behind tanks and flame throwers.

Allied bombers, absent from the Munda battle Thursday for the first time in weeks, returned to the assault, blasting Japanese positions around the Central Solomons stronghold.

Fighting continued around the Japanese base at Salamaua, New Guinea, while enemy planes made an ineffective raid on Allied positions at Bena Bena, about seventy miles southwest of Salamaua.

to ten the total made by United States big bombers this month.

An American-British communiqué said it was highly successful. Heavy concentrations of bombs were seen exploding all over the huge Fieseler aircraft plant at Kassel, said to turn out 500 engines monthly for Messerschmitts and Focke-Wulf fighters and other vital plane parts.

Destroy 25 Nazi Fighters
United States Thunderbolts which met the Fortresses near the German border to escort them home destroyed twenty-five German fighters.

Portress crews at a United States bomber station in England said Nazi fighter opposition was slackening steadily. The station's commanding officer estimated that in the current aerial offensive Fortresses alone have knocked out plants producing between fifty and seventy-five per cent of the Nazis' vaunted Focke-Wulf 190 fighters. He said "we have demonstrated this week we can go anywhere we want to in Germany."

The British raid on Hamburg loosened 2,300 tons of bombs into the ruins and embers of the city, raising to 6,900 tons the total dropped on Europe's biggest port since Saturday, The RAF, in the whole week, had dropped 8,900 tons on German targets, including Essen, which until last night had been the world's most bomb-tortured city.

Hamburg Found Blazing
Hamburg still was blazing from previous raids, and smoke curling five miles above the city of 1,600,000 beckoned British and Canadian fliers with their fresh loads of destruction. The RAF lost twenty-eight bombers, but the great black-winged armada destroyed at least six Nazi night fighters.

"Hamburg seemed absolutely burned out," Pilot Officer Gordon Barnholder of the Canadian air force commented.

Hamburg is the place where the first disaffection in German armed forces began in 1918. The Moscow radio said that the German secret police chief, Heinrich Himmler, had arrived in the city because of recent peace manifestations prompted by previous raids.

The German communiqué called the raid "another heavy terror attack, causing further devastation. The population suffered heavy casualties." The Germans said Heilmann also was bombed and that fifty-four attacking planes were downed.

State Population Shows Increase

WASHINGTON, July 30. (AP)—The Census Bureau estimated today that the civilian population of Maryland as of March 1 of this year was 1,964,914, as compared with 1,896,485 on April 1, 1940.

For the United States as a whole the bureau estimated that the civilian population had dropped 3,100,000 during the last three years, going from 131,300,000 to 128,200,000.

The bureau declared that the drop reflected the growth of the armed services at a rate far outstripping natural gains brought about by a record birth rate.

The estimated civilian population by states, as of March 1, 1943 and 1940, included:

District of Columbia 839,013, 658,018; Virginia 2,767,789, 2,642,729; West Virginia 1,742,705, 1,901,723.

Whale Inn Discovered By OPA Officials

GOSHEN, Mass., July 30. (AP)—The Whale Inn, a well known hotel nestled in the Berkshire hills has finally been discovered by the OPA.

A questionnaire received from the OPA at the inn today contained the following two questions:

1. How many ships are in your fleet?
2. How many miles of coastline are there in Goshen?

U. S. Ship Sunk

front around Orel have reached villages within eight miles of city, the front was irregular. Daily announcements of gains from two to ten miles were presumably part of the operations to straighten the lines and squeeze tighter the clamp around the prize Axis base.

Some idea of the intensity of the fighting came in a Berlin broadcast which described a Russian attack by more than 200 tanks in the sector north of Orel.

The Soviet tank brigades came in incessant waves against the German positions all day, the broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, said.

Germans Claim Successes

The battle "swayed" back and forth and at some points the Russian tanks "succeeded in breaking into the German lines." But the German report declared that the Germans later ironed out the new breaches and repulsed the attack with a loss of ninety-nine Soviet tanks.

Soviet intelligence reports said Hitler had placed Field Marshal Model in charge of the second tank army defending Orel, replacing a Col. Gen. Schmidt, and that Model had issued the "fight to the death" order.

Berlin reports, recorded from radio by the Associated Press, said Russian attacks at Orel and other points of battle on the 1,800-mile front had weakened, Transcaucasian, a Nazi propaganda agency, even asserted that "German military quarters declared at the moment there could be no talk of a Soviet offensive against Orel."

Fighting near Leningrad

The German communiqué, however, said "violent enemy infantry and tank attacks were repulsed" at Orel and that Soviet drives in the Leningrad area had lessened. German "naval forces" were said to have shelled the Russians on the Mius front along the shallow sea of Azov on the approaches to Taganrog, damaging an armored train. Transcaucasian said fighting in the Kuban, on the Mius and in the Donets basin was local.

"The strength of the German defense came as a complete surprise to the Soviets," Transcaucasian said. Moscow admitted the going was tough, saying gains at Orel were made only "at the cost of tremendous effort." Unseasonable rains aided the German defense, stiffened by fresh regiments brought from France and Germany.

Jobs for

Inside of three months, readjustment counsel to help find new jobs, free tuition and allowances for education and training, old-age insurance benefit credits for time spent in uniform, and opportunities for agricultural employment and purchase of farms.

Plans for War Workers

For civilian war workers, the group proposed creation of readjustment centers similar to those to aid ex-servicemen, with counsel regarding re-training for other jobs; strengthening of existing employment agencies for their heavier load, and an orderly cancellation of war contracts.

Evidently opposed to a bonus such as that voted veterans of World War I, the committee said the furlough or mustering-out pay — to visit home, to sustain the men while seeking a job or more education, and to acquire civilian clothes — are "explicitly made in lieu of any other grants for such purposes to avoid making large payments at any one time, which might be dissipated and fail to fulfill the social purposes for which they are granted."

anarchy because a lot of troops are needed to deal with anarchy.

Mr. Roosevelt also made public some details of the help being given the population in Sicily, including food, medical supplies and oil.

Recalls First War

Discussing the question of asylum for Axis leaders, an authority on international law said it was discretionary with a country whether it gave refuge to a fugitive. He recalled that in the last war Kaiser Wilhelm II of Germany took refuge in Holland, that the Versailles treaty called on the Netherlands government to deliver him for trial and that Holland refused.

From a purely realistic standpoint, there have been unofficial reports here that none of the European neutrals — Switzerland, Turkey, Spain, Portugal and Sweden — is eager to receive Mussolini for fear of displeasing the United Nations.

Vatican City has shown perhaps the most rigid neutrality of any state in the war.

Argentina is the only other neutral that has been mentioned as a possible place of refuge.

Nazi Radio Station Prepares for Worst

LONDON, Saturday, July 31. (AP)—Deutschlandsender, the main German long wave radio station, faded out early today, the ministry of information said. This was an indication that Allied bombers an indication that Allied bombers were over Germany.

Rubber Plant Opens

BORGER, Tex., July 30. (AP)—B. F. Goodrich Company officials said that their Borger plant, designed to produce six per cent of the nation's rubber when in full swing, turned out its first batch Wednesday. Projected annual production is 45,000 tons.

Knox Indicates Jap Strongholds Face Early Raids

Says Powerful Thrusts against Strong Points Are Planned

WASHINGTON, July 30. (AP)—Secretary Knox indicated today that the present American strategy of limited island advances in the Pacific is but preparation for powerful and decisive thrusts against the strategic strong points of the Japanese empire.

Knox told his press conference:

It isn't reasonable to assume that the method now being followed will be the one of the future."

He described this as a method of "island to base" fighting. Asked whether it was not true that the only alternative is a strategy of striking at some of the main junctions of the enemy's Pacific empire the secretary replied:

"That's good speculation, but of course you can't discuss strategy in detail."
"Your speculation is as good as mine."

Questioned about Japs

The navy secretary had been asked for comment on President Roosevelt's statement in his Wednesday speech that the Japanese have lost so heavily in ships and planes that they will not be able to maintain their most remote bases in the Southwest Pacific.

"Our estimate is that the Japanese are steadily losing both in combatant ships and merchant vessels much faster than they can replace them, but that is an estimate," Knox replied. "Consequently if that is true they are having increasing difficulty with their lines of communication."

Will Change Method

A reporter then asked whether, in view of the way the Japanese have defended each foot of territory so far, it would be a reasonable assumption that they would voluntarily withdraw from anywhere—even though their supply lines played out.

"No," Knox said emphatically, "and it isn't reasonable to assume that the method now being followed will be the one of the future."

He described the present fighting around Munda air base on New Georgia islands as a "slow and expensive process." Even though American forces have control of the sea and air, he said, where the enemy is holding strong ground positions, "they can only be taken in the old-fashioned way—by beating them down—by throwing our infantry against them."

Knox compared the present "tough fighting" around Munda to the first thirty days of warfare in the battle for Guadalcanal and said that the difficulties of terrain and of enemy defenses are similar.

British Cabinet

Identify the man still free, nor did it say why he escaped arrest, but Mussolini was one of the life members of the council.

Staffs of Italian railways, mail, telegraph and radio services were militarized by decree.

Twenty prefects and several party secretaries whose dismissal was announced yesterday were called up for service in Italy's armed forces today, the Rome radio announced.

See No Chance for Peace

The Rome station insisted that the unconditional surrender "conditions propounded by the enemy exclude any possibility of real peace."

The early morning session of the British cabinet was said to have been connected entirely with military instead of political developments, but the two are now so closely linked as to be virtually one and the same.

Just what effect the reported German moves in North Italy would have on Allied strategy was not disclosed, but Badoglio was expected to face a showdown soon as to whether Italy would remain in the war—London estimates as to the time ranging from twenty-four hours to a week.

Nazis Take Over Ports

Besides occupying the Istrian peninsula, the Germans have taken over the ports of Trieste, Pola and Pola and further complicated Italy's internal crisis, Continental dispatches said.

The possibility that Mussolini might seek a neutral haven has already been explored and the British government has associated itself fully with President Roosevelt's expression of hope that neutral nations would not harbor Axis war criminals, it was announced.

Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden gave a tipoff in the House of Commons today that the government was expecting an imminent turn in events. He said the war cabinet decided at a meeting yesterday against authorizing a war debate at present, but he added:

"Should there be some marked change in the situation—and week-ends do sometimes produce changes in situations in Europe—we would, of course, reconsider our attitude."

Blue Network Sold to Noble

Big Radio Company Purchased by Owner of Station WMCA

NEW YORK, July 30. (AP)—Signing of an agreement for the sale of the Blue Network Company, Inc., for $8,000,000 in cash to Edward J. Noble, former under secretary of commerce, chairman of the Life Savers Corporation and owner of station WMCA, New York, was announced today by David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America.

Sale of the network is to meet the requirement of the Federal Communications Commission that there be no common ownership of two networks. RCA, which also owns the National Broadcasting Company, will continue to operate that chain.

Noble said that he would dispose of his interests in WMCA as soon as a buyer could be found. He added that the present staff of the Blue, headed by Mark Woods, president, and Edgar Kobak, executive vice president, would remain on the job.

Negotiations for the sale have been under way for some time, with bidding starting at $6,000,000 and reported to have gone up $500,000 at a time.

Mussolini Brought Before King under Guard of Officers

BERN, July 30. (AP)—King Vittorio Emanuele was compelled to send army officers to bring Mussolini to the palace when he asked his resignation according to the Gazzetta Del Popolo of Turin.

The newspaper gave this version of events: Mussolini, after the Fascist Grand Council voted against him Sunday, was supposed to go to the king to submit his resignation. Instead he went to an agricultural exhibition, where he distributed prizes.

The king dispatched officers to get Mussolini. When Mussolini was brought to the palace he told the king there "are only a few centers of resistance," which he said "could be easily eliminated."

The king answered, according to the Gazzetta, "We think you had better resign."

Nazis May Fight In North Rome

[By The Associated Press]
An ominous statement that Germany was "looking with particular interest towards Northern Italy," was made today on the Berlin radio.

The broadcast, recorded by the Associated Press, said that in Northern Italy "according to neutral reports the situation is so far not clarified as Communist elements are calling forth ever fresh unrest there."

This propaganda line may precede a full scale German occupation of Northern Italy, where German troops are moving in according to Swiss and Madrid reports.

The Berlin broadcast also commented that from public statements of the new Italian government it was clear that "apart from political events the military situation, with all its urgent necessities dominates the present hour."

Strike Forces Closing Of Big Shipyard

BALTIMORE, July 30. (AP)—Several thousand workers left their jobs at the Bethlehem Steel Company's big Sparrows Point shipyard today as the result of a controversy over attendance of negro students at a training school for riveters, and the yard was ordered closed until Monday.

A spokesman for the company issued this formal statement:

"The Bethlehem-Sparrows Point shipyard closed at noon today and will remain closed until Monday morning because of an issue arising from racial matters."

The spokesman added that conferences were held throughout the day by L. F. Rye, conciliator for the United States Department of Labor, officials of the company and representatives of the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America (CIO).

They hope to reach a settlement before Monday, the company representative added.

West Virginia Fishing Prospects Not Good

The survey from field men showed that streams in Greenbrier, Hampshire, Raleigh and Wyoming counties "hold the best promise," the commission added.

Hockey Player Is Convicted of Violating Selective Service Act

DETROIT, July 30. (AP)—James V. Orlando, Detroit Red Wing hockey player, was convicted by a federal court jury late today of violating the Selective Service act, and was sentenced to four years in prison and fined $2,000.

Judge Edward J. Moineau pronounced sentence immediately after the jury of nine women and three men reported it had found the star defenseman guilty on two counts of the indictment against him. Orlando was sentenced to four years on each count, but the sentences will run concurrently.

The jury deliberated for less than three hours.

John R. Watkins, Orlando's attorney, indicated he would appeal the conviction, and Orlando's bond of $2,000 was continued pending a hearing Monday.

Program Planned
For Playground

Jenkins Makes Plans for Inside Recreation on Rainy Days

OAKLAND, July 30 — A playground program, not only for outside activities but also for recreation during rainy days has been outlined by Bruce Jenkins, summer playground director, which is designed to keep the young people of the town occupied and interested.

Since the opening of the program several weeks ago under the sponsorship of the Lions club, many individuals and other organizations have become interested and have contributed towards its support. The mayor and city council joined in the project with financial support and the use of the town property at the north edge of town.

Jenkins said that over ninety boys and girls had registered since the program opened with a daily average attendance of twenty-five but he hoped it would mount to 100 or more. He emphasized that activities would continue on rainy days inside the building with crafts, story telling, ping pong, shuffle board, etc.

He listed as already available tennis, badminton, croquet, shuffleboard, horse shoes, archery, softball, volleyball, organized games, saws, giant stride, merry-go-round and slide, will be ready by Monday. Work has been done this week in erecting this permanent equipment in concrete. A part of the property is to be cleared for a basketball court soon.

He said an evening program from 6 to 8:30 also was being considered if enough interest was shown, especially among older boys and girls. He said it was his plan to have certain special events each week and for next week he announced a horseshoe tournament Monday at 1:30 for boys 12 to 15; tennis tournament Tuesday at 1:30, boys and girls 12 to 15; archery tournament Wednesday at 1:30 for boys and girls 12 to 15; and a nature study trip for boys and girls 6 to 12 at a time to be named.

MEMBERS OF FOUR GENERATIONS

LONA CONING, July 30—Unusual as it is to see a family picture of four generations, it is more unusual to see a picture of four members representing four generations with the same first name. The above picture shows four persons, all named Hugh Atkinson.

The eldest Atkinson will mark his eighty-fifth birthday in October. He was born in Toronto, Canada, a son of the late Harry and Elizabeth Atkinson. In 1865, at the close of the Civil war, he came to Eckhart Mines.

In 1867 he moved to Lonaconing in this town. He still recalls well when Lonaconing had only a few rows of "company houses" for the coal miners. He worked in this district. He worked in Jackson eleven years, five years as digger and six years as driver in the mines.

He remembers the "good old days" as it is to the Co-operative store, located at the Odd Fellows hall, was in operation. He was manager of the Co-operative for twenty-seven years, having been with the store for thirty-eight years. He drove the delivery team for many years. He has been a member of Jehovah's Witnesses for many years.

In 1881 he married Miss Margaret Muir of Lonaconing. On August 25 they will observe their sixty-second wedding anniversary. They have seven children. Hugh, the eldest; Miss Mary C. Atkinson; John M. Atkinson, Rock Springs, Wyo.; Harry Atkinson, who took part in seven major battles in World War I, and who has been in the army for thirty years, now stationed at Fort Logan, Denver, Colo.; Mrs. John Broadbeck; Mrs. James Richmond and Mrs. Thomas Holmes.

Hugh Atkinson II is 61. His wife is the former Miss Elizabeth Bell of Lonaconing. They have four children, Mrs. William J. Boteler, Buckeystown, Md.; Mrs. Walter T. Kline, Romney, W. Va.; Hugh Henry Atkinson, and Mrs. Guy R. Willis, registered nurse, Durham, N. C.

Hugh Henry Atkinson III, is 35 years old. He married Miss Mabel Beckman, of Luke. They have two daughters, Elizabeth Lee and Julia Annette, and a seven-month-old son, who makes the fourth member of the family generation with the name Hugh Henry Atkinson.

America's jitterbugs have the chance to hear what a swing band-master's own idea of jive is — Tommy Dorsey plays "We'll Get It," his own composition, in "Du Barry Was a Lady," now showing at the Maryland theater.

Arranged by Cy Oliver, "We'll Get It" is real jive with Ziggy Elman, the nation's No. 1 trumpeter featured. The tune grew out of an actual jam session of the band, and is so hot the boys insist on a fifteen minute recess after playing it.

Directed by Roy Del Ruth, "Du Barry Was a Lady" stars Lucille Ball, Red Skelton and Gene Kelly and features rotund Zero Mostel, New York comedian, "Rags" Ragland, Donald Meek, Virginia O'Brien, and a bev. of beautiful "Du Barry" girls in the eye-appealing production numbers. Arthur Freed produced for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. The entire film is in technicolor.

In Memoriam

In memory of our father and husband, Robert E. Amick, who passed away two years ago today, July 31, 1941.

The moon and stars are shining,
Upon a lonely night,
Where sleeps our dear father,
Whom we loved but could not save.
You left behind some broken hearts,
That loved you most sincere,
That never did or never will,
Forget you, Father dear.

14 Persons Hurt As Truck Strikes Bridge Abutment

Four in Critical Condition and Two Are Seriously Injured

Accident Occurs on Lincoln
Highway Three Miles from Bedford, Pa.

Fourteen persons were admitted to Timmins hospital, Bedford, Pa., early Thursday evening after the truck in which they were riding crashed against a concrete abutment of a bridge on the Lincoln highway three miles west of Bedford Thursday at 3:45 p. m., according to Bedford state police.

Seven other occupants of the truck were treated in the dispensary of the hospital and then released.

Four Critically Injured
Most critically injured were: Vernon Northcraft, Route 1, Flintstone. His condition was "very critical" last evening. He suffered a crushed pelvis and a possible puncture of the bladder.

Emil Weimert, Route 1, Bedford, fractured rib and bruise burns.

Pennsylvania State Police at Bedford said the men, all employees of the R. C. Little Construction Company, were returning from Buffalo Mills where they had been working on the "Big Inch" pipeline and were going toward Bedford when the accident occurred.

Could Not Stop Vehicle
The driver, Donald Weaverling, Bedford, told state police the steering mechanism began to give trouble and the truck began veering to the right of the road. He attempted to bring the truck back to the highway but was unable to steer and it ran against the abutment of the bridge as the truck was going about thirty-five miles an hour.

No charges have been preferred against the driver, Pennsylvania state police said.

Pre-Blight Era
Poles Come Down

P. E. Replaces 25-Year-Old Chestnut Veterans
with Pine Poles

Approximately 130 electric power poles, many of which have been as high as twenty-five years of service, are now being replaced on the west side of Cumberland by crews of the Potomac Edison Company.

A number of the old poles being taken down are of chestnut wood and were erected almost a quarter of a century ago before the chestnut blight invaded this section of the country. They are being replaced by creosote treated pine poles.

The new poles are thirty to sixty feet in height and crews of five or six men are employed in removing the "old timers" and putting up the new poles upon which the electric wires will be strung.

Pole construction operations are carried on now due to the war halting other phases of the Potomac Edison's expansion program.

Approximately 170 new poles have been erected in the Bedford road section in recent months.

Gateway Chatter

by
News Staff Members

Youngsters don't say much about their work in civilian defense, and they are seldom given publicity—but there's no doubt about it, they are doing their part, and doing it well.

In Mt. Savage a number of younger boys served continually on three hour shifts at the observation post. One of these boys, Bernard Green, volunteered for the early morning shift, from 3 until 6 o'clock.

The chief observer was hesitant about giving these hours to a boy of thirteen, but Bernard was so earnest in his request that the watch was given to him.

From the time he volunteered until the post was inactivated last week, the youngster served faithfully, never missing a turn. Living on the other side of town, Bernard had a long distance to walk to the post, especially in the freezing weather and deep snows of last winter, but he never complained.

When his watch was over, Bernard had a morning paper route to cover.

The boy had a reason for wanting that early morning shift. Bernard had a brother, Pvt. Joseph Green, stationed in the South Pacific when those early morning planes of the Japanese staged their surprise attack. Pvt. Green is now a Japanese prisoner.

Word was received by the War Department that over Guadalcanal Second Lt. Murray J. Shubin from Allegheny county, Penn., shot down five Jap Zeros plus one probable in forty-five minutes.

Lt. Shubin, leader of the flight of four P-38 Lightnings, attacked a rear cover of approximately fifteen Zeros. He remained in constant contact with five Zeros for forty minutes, during which time his comrades had to leave. Two were forced out of the battle having run out of ammunition, and the third was seriously wounded.

According to Maj. E. J. Hill, commanding officer of the Allegheny Ordnance plant, it is highly important that our fighter pilots receive first quality ammunition. Since the machine-guns used in a fighter are inaccessible to the pilot, any jam of a gun would have forced Lt. Shubin out of the battle or cost him his life or perhaps the life of any of his men.

E. S. Burke, president of The Kelly Springfield Engineering Company which operates the Allegheny Ordnance plant manufacturing caliber .50 ammunition of the type used in fighter planes, has put quality as one of the first aims of his company.

Several hundred former coal miners in District 16, United Mine Workers of America, have received, or will soon receive, $50 vacation pay bonus if they were employed June 15, 1942, and are now in the armed service.

Some men already have received a partial payment and will soon get the balance. The vacation bonus is provided in the contract between operators and the union.

In many cases it is expected the money will be sent to the families of the fighting men so that they may retain it until the men come home.

Earl Daulbaugh
Posts $15 Bond

A man booked as Earl Daulbaugh, 329 North Mechanic street, posted bonds totaling $15 in police court this morning.

The first, a bond of $10 was for a charge of disorderly conduct; the $5 bond was on a charge of failing to appear after being summoned as a witness.

No charges have been preferred against the driver, Pennsylvania state police said.

Good Results of Contour Gardening
Make Farmer Forget Crooked Rows

Martin Gordon, Route 2,
Finds System Works Well
in Dry Weather

Old-time market gardeners might throw up their hands in horror at the sight of the crooked rows, but if they were to come closer and examine the results, they would approve of contour gardening.

Martin Gordon, Route 2, near Rush, is convinced that operating his garden on the contour has reduced the effects of the season's unusually dry weather.

The contouring did not make rain, but Gordon is sure that the way his garden has produced in spite of adverse conditions is largely due to his system of plowing, planting and cultivating on the contour.

Gordon explained that contouring is simply operating on the level, across the slope, instead of running the rows up and down hill.

He pointed out that the few rains of consequence in his neighborhood this summer were short hard downpours.

The contouring rows, he said, acted as dams to prevent the water from running off and stored it for future use.

The Gordon farm is co-operating with the Allegheny Soil Conservation district in a plan of soil and moisture conservation and efficient land use.

Gordon, according to officials of the district, decided to apply the same methods on his garden that he used on his farm land. Since the garden was planted on sloping land he reasoned that contouring would be as valuable on his garden as on the rest of his farm.

The garden was laid out with a level in the same manner as for larger areas. The crop rows are not straight. The lay of the land on his garden was such that the rows, to stay on the level, must curve gracefully around the hill.

He fully expected contouring to reduce erosion and to insure against gullies and washed out areas, but its aid in helping the plants to maintain steady growth during dry spells was beyond all expectation.

The system also conserves man power and horse power, Gordon said. On hot days when cultivating with a wheel hoe, he has appreciated working around the hill on the level. "It takes much less effort than pushing up and down hill," he concluded.

Cumberland Men Meet in Pacific

Two Cumberland men, Lt. (sg.) G. Owen Smith, and Lt. (jg.) Manning Williams, met aboard ship in the South Pacific about the middle of this month, the former wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Smith, The Dingle.

Lt. Smith, a ship commander, had dinner with Lt. Williams and the men exchanged Cumberland news. They are serving in the same fleet.

Pay Equalization For State Road Workers Approved

Commissioners Authorize Adjustment for Those on County System

Equalization of pay within the ranges established by the salary standard board and granting of vacation periods and sick leaves for employees of the state roads commission working on the county system of roads was approved unanimously by the board of county commissioners at their meeting yesterday.

The request for the board's approval was made in a letter from William A. Codd, chief auditor of the "state roads commission, who explained that beginning July 1, the provisions of the salary standard plan, applicable to all state employees, became effective. The plan established a maximum and minimum rate of pay for various classifications of both salaried and hourly rated workers.

Adjustment Is Made
Since there are many variances in the pay of those maintaining state systems and those maintaining county systems, and also because no uniformity has been established by law concerning sick leaves and vacation privileges, the commission and the board of commissioners deemed it advisable to authorize an adjustment in rates and extension of privileges.

Because the added cost for the increased rates of pay is charged to the funds administered by the commission for the county's use, it was necessary to obtain the commissioners' approval before the change can become effective.

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, county health officer, appeared before the commissioners about a plan for administering a new vaccine, which immunizes against both diphtheria and whooping cough, to children between the ages of six months and three years.

Because of its cost, Dr. Frantz said, that the state health department alone would not furnish the combined serum, but there is a possibility of its sharing the expense. He asked the commissioners to consider granting aid also. He estimated $200 as the cost of treating about 400 children. The commissioners indicated that they would probably go along in the project.

Other Business Transacted
The board also approved insolvencies in automobile taxes for the year 1941, amounting to $1,193.12 in county taxes and $195.15 in state taxes.

At the request of Arthur P. Hoffa, president of the county farm bureau, E. I. Oswald, assistant state director of extension service, County Farm Agent Ralph F. McHenry and William Shumaker, leader of Potomac Valley 4-H club, the commissioners agreed to contribute up to $1,000 in defraying the county's share of the expense for the employment of a 4-H club leader.

Additional expense involved in the leader's employment will be borne by Garrett county and extension service.

Paul H. Lucas Is Held on Jewelry
Theft Charge

Paul H. Lucas, 30, Braddock, Pa., who officers said was A.W.O.L. from the army, was committed to the county jail yesterday in default of $1,000 bond for action of the October grand jury after he waived a preliminary hearing before Magistrate Frank A. Perdue in trial magistrates court on a charge of stealing jewelry from the home of Robert Clark, 8 Euclid place.

Lucas was captured early yesterday morning by Lieut. James E. Van and Officers Edwin Lilya and L. A. Williams.

Lieut. James E. Van said Clark, an employee of the city street department, reported the loss of the jewelry valued at $500, yesterday morning at 1:30 o'clock, giving a description of the man he suspected.

Two hours after the report, B and O police reported that a man believed to be Lucas had boarded a fast freight in the local yards and three city policemen sped in a cruiser car to Mt. Savage junction where the freight was standing on a siding.

Lieut. Van saw Lucas as he leaped from the train. The fugitive tried to hide but was discovered between the tracks.

Most of the stolen jewelry was found on the man, Lieut. Van said. The loot included a $45 man's wrist watch, a $35 woman's wrist watch, two diamond rings and other jewelry.

Police said Lucas left the army four weeks ago in New York and had been living along the C and O towpath the last ten days.

Clark, police said, met the soldier at a baseball game and invited Lucas to his home, and later showed him the jewelry.

The men left the house before midnight, police said. Within an hour Clark returned home and discovered the loss of the jewelry.

The officers said that after the soldier was taken to jail they returned to the place he was captured and discovered jewelry valued at $100 that was lost when Lucas jumped from the train.

Police Hold Elkins

Albert C. Elkins, Village Springs, Ala., is being held by local police for army authorities.

The soldier was arrested last evening at 9:50 o'clock by Officer Ernest M. Powell and Detective R. Ernest Flynn. Police said the soldier had no pass or furlough of any kind in his possession.

Army Planes Are Scheduled To Fly Here Tomorrow

Flight from Bolling Field
Will Feature Aviation
Cadet Campaign

Residents of Cumberland will see a reasonable facsimile of the World War II propaganda device tomorrow morning when two large twin-engine army airplanes will shower the town with pamphlets at about 10:20 o'clock.

Quite different from the ultimatum currently filling the Italian atmosphere, the local shower will consist of informative material about the aviation cadets and the flight demonstration will be in connection with the current cadet recruiting campaign.

According to an announcement by Maj. Gen. Milton A. Reckord, commanding general of the Third Service Command, the planes will take off from Bolling Field, Washington, and will fly over Frederick at 9:20 a. m., reach Hagerstown at 9:50 a. m. and Cumberland about 10:20 a. m.

Although the planes are not expected to land, arrangements were made yesterday by Corp. Daniel Eisner, of Baltimore, with Commissioner Edgar Reynolds, acting mayor, for use of the facilities of the Cumberland Municipal Airport at Wiley Ford, W. Va., should landing be necessary.

No announcement was made about the duration of the demonstration, but Gen. Reckord said the army plane would give young men in the three cities a chance to see just what kind of plane they might learn to fly as cadets. It is expected, however, that the demonstration here will last longer than those over the first two cities.

In the absence of Tech. Sgt. Clarence L. Biehn, local recruiter, who is on special recruiting service at Winchester, Va., applications for aviation cadets and preliminary examinations are being given by Corp. Daniel Eisner and Pvt. Calvin Kovens.

Men between the ages of 18 and 26 who have not yet been called for induction under the selective service system may apply and men between 17 and 18 may volunteer for the air corps enlisted reserve.

The reservists are called to active duty for pre-flight training at the end of the first school semester after they become 18.

The Cumberland Civil Air Patrol is sponsoring the cadet drive in Allegheny county and the campaign program is under the direction of Lieut. T. E. Carlson.

Parts of planes that have actually been in combat in this war have been obtained for display in a local store window and Cumberlanders are also expected to have the chance to view every part of the bomb sight except the sight mechanism itself.

Miss Teresa Diehl Enlists in WACs

A 20-year-old Mt. Savage girl, Miss Teresa Diehl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Diehl, is the first applicant to be accepted at the local WAC recruiting station under the new ruling which permits women between the ages of 20 and 50 to enlist in the organization, Lieut. Praxitheia M. Coroneos, local recruiter, announced yesterday.

That the new age limits are popular is proved, Lieut. Coroneos said, by the fact that three 20-year-old women and two over 45 years of age applied for applications, yesterday.

On local woman 48 years of age submitted her application yesterday, the recruiter said.

Motorists Face
Fines for Evading
Payment of Tax

Strict Enforcement of Auto
Use-Tax Law Will Be gin in State Monday

Strict enforcement of the $5 auto use-tax stamp law will begin throughout Maryland and the District of Columbia on Monday, A. Parks Rasin, acting collector of internal revenue, announced yesterday.

Approximately 8,500 stamps have been sold at the Cumberland post office compared to 10,000 for the corresponding period last year.

Rasin, collector for the Maryland and Washington area, said that names of motorists found using automobiles without the use-tax stamp affixed would be turned over to the United States attorney for possible prosecution.

The collector explained that the new stamp should have been on all cars a month ago Monday and that deputies had conducted a "warning" campaign since then.

Rasin said he believed he had been more than fair in giving sufficient time for all motorists to purchase the stamps. Results of the warning campaign have been "good," he said, but many automobiles still are without the necessary stamp.

Persons who fail to display the stamps on automobiles in use are, under the law, guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a fine of $25 and costs.

County Farmers To Organize War Bond Committee

To take care of agriculture's representation in Allegheny county on the War Finance committee and to promote war savings investments in rural areas, plans were completed yesterday by the Allegheny County Farm Bureau for the organization of a sub-committee representing the county farmers.

Caleb J. White, local farmer, was named chairman of the rural committee at a meeting of farm bureau directors with Forest Brown, of the War Finance committee, and Wilbert Smith, field representative of the state farm bureau.

White will meet with Arthur P. Hoffa, president of the Allegheny County Farm Bureau, and Ralph F. McHenry, county farm agent, Tuesday morning to set up the rest of the committee which will consist of from eleven to fifteen members. The committeemen are to be selected from representative farmers from various sections of the county.

The prime purpose of the committee is to help promote the sale of war bonds under the program of the War Finance committee in the rural areas. Heretofore, agriculture has had no representation.

Western Maryland
Railway Is Named
In $100,000 Suit

Claims Filed by Widow of Trackman Struck by a
Shifting Freight Car

Suit for $100,000 was filed in circuit court yesterday against the Western Maryland Railway Company by the State of Maryland for the use and benefit of Helen Drucilla Wakefield and Ann Wakefield widow and infant daughter of James Franklin Wakefield, who was fatally injured last October when he was struck by a shifting freight car.

The declaration states that the accident occurred on or about October 31 when Wakefield was working for interstate purposes as a trackman near Knobmount, Mineral county, W. Va.

Plaintiffs charge that while Wakefield was shoveling gravel which had accumulated on the track, the company continued to operate trains over the track without making any provisions for warning him.

According to the declaration, a railroad car was switched to the track on which he was working and after it was started at a considerable speed was permitted to move unattended and without being attached to a locomotive or other cars toward Wakefield. Since the foreman was absent from the scene and there was no one near to warn him, the plaintiffs allege, Wakefield was unable to observe the car because of his work and was struck, run over and fatally injured.

The company is charged with failing to exercise ordinary care and precautions in providing and maintaining a safe place in which Wakefield might work and failure to provide adequate and proper safeguards, in accordance with a federal act relating to interstate commerce and liability to common carriers by railroads to their employees.

Because of his injuries, the declaration states, Wakefield's wife and daughter have been left destitute and deprived of maintenance, support, comfort and affection, and therefore bring suit for and claim $100,000.

Morgan C. Harris is attorney for the plaintiffs.
